Steamer Explosion.

Cincinnati, May 18.—The steamer Pat Cleburne exploded her boilers near Shawneetown, Ill., last night. Several were killed and a number injured.

Evansville, Ind., May 18.—A Journal special from Shawneetown, Ill., says the steamer Pat Cleburne exploded her boilers at 11 last night six miles below Shawneetown while lying alongside of the Arkansas Belle. The Belle was tied to the bank and disabled by a line of coal flats fouled to her starboard wheel and could render no assistance. The Cleburne floated down about a mile and burned. Captain Fowler is lost. He was caught in the timbers and burned. Dick Partridge, express agent, was lost. Walter C. McIlhany, the engineer, was blown into the river badly hurt, but he will recover. D. C. Morse, mail agent, was blown overboard, but saved. J. McGuirrie, pilot, who was at the wheel, fell through to the boiler deck, cut and scalded. Allen Porter, second clerk, was scalded and cut. Arthur Brown, clerk, hands and face scalded and head cut. All the cabin crew are supposed to be saved. Urnback, a musician, could not extricate himself from the timbers and was burned. Albert Smith, barber, had his hands scalded. Chas. Calton, 2d mate, is supposed to be lost. Passengers: G. W. Smith, of Evansville, was slightly scalded; G. W. Nichols, of Terre Haute, hands and feet scalded; John Harvey, of Cincinnati, scalded and face cut. He will recover. An unknown passenger was blown to the deck of the Belle and killed. In the great confusion and the officers being all disabled, we cannot learn what other passengers are lost. The crew not mentioned are saved. The Belle is badly wrecked. Her passengers and crew worked faithfully. The stoker and engineer are badly scalded. Chas Smith, of Cincinnati, has his leg broken.

Wholesale Slaughter by Indians.

Fort Laramie, May 18.—Mr. May, of Cheyenne, brings in the news that he was told by a Mr. Church that J. C. Sanders, of Cheyenne, and twenty others were killed a few days ago on Sand creek near Custer. The informant helped bury the bodies of three of those who were out.

Methodist Conference at Baltimore.

Baltimore, May 17.—At the session of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference to-day, Dr. D. D. Whedon was unanimously elected editor of the Quarterly Review, Dr. J. H. Vincent, editor of Sunday school papers and tracts. Messrs. Nelson and Phillips were re-elected by acclamation agents of the N. Y. Book Concern, and Messrs. Hitchcock and Walden were re-elected by acclamation agents of the Western Book Concern. A motion to postpone the election of editor of the New York Christian Advocate was lost, and Dr. Curry, C. H. Fowler and E. O. Haven were then put in nomination. A ballot was had with the following result: Whole number of votes 7 ...; necessary to a choice 161. C. H. Fowler received 162, Dr. Curry 113, E. O. Haven 19, scattering 7. Dr. Fowler was then declared duly elected. Rev. H. C. Benson, of California, was the only nominee for editor of the California Christian Advocate and was elected unanimously.

Baltimore, May 18.—At the session of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference to-day, Judge Cooley, of Upper Iowa, presented the report of the standing committee on the Book Concern in reference to the consolidation of the Church papers. The report recommends that the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate be published by the New York agents and be under the control of the general book committee, which occasioned a lengthy debate. Dr. Curry said the conviction had grown upon him through years of observation that the Church needed but two great papers, one at New York and at some point in the West. He said the local papers never pay for themselves until thrown upon the locality where they are published. Before a conclusion was reached the special order of to-day was taken up—the election of editors.

National Independent Convention.

Indianapolis, May 18.—The convention reassembled at 9:30 and the following platform adopted:

We demand the immediate and unconditional repeal of the specie resumption act of January 14, 1875, and the rescue of our industries from the ruin and disaster resulting from its enforcement, and we call upon all patriotic men to organize in every Congressional District of the country with a view of electing Representatives to Congress who will carry out the wishes of the people in this regard and stop the present suicidal and destructive policy of contraction. We believe that a United States note if issued directly by the Government and convertible on demand into United States obligations bearing a less rate of interest, not exceeding one cent a day on each one hundred dollars, and re-exchangeable for United States notes at par, will afford the best circulating medium ever devised. Such U. S. notes should be a full legal tender for all purposes except for the payment of such obligations as are by existing contracts expressly made payable in coin. And we hold that it is the duty of the government to provide such a circulation restored to the nation as when it belongs. It is the paramount duty of the government in all its legislation to keep in view the full development of a legitimate business, agricultural, mining, manufacturing and commercial. We most earnestly protest against any further issue of gold bonds for sale in foreign markets, by which we would be made for a long period hewers of wood and drawers of water to foreigners, especially as the American people would gladly and promptly take at par all the bonds the government may need to sell, provided they are made payable at the option of the holder and bearing interest at 3.65 per cent per annum or even a lower rate. We further protest against the sale of government bonds for the purpose of purchasing silver to be issued as a substitute for our more convenient and less fluctuating fractional currency, which although well calculated to enrich the owners of silver mines, yet in operation it will still further oppress in taxation an already overburdened people.

A subsequent resolution against railroad subsidies was adopted.

The nominations on fifth ballot were Peter Cooper, of New York, for President and Newton Booth, of California, for Vice President. Convention adjourned sine die.

Peter Cooper Declines the Nomination.

New York, May 18.—Peter Cooper, in a conversation this afternoon, stated he would not accept the nomination for the Presidency tendered him by the Indianapolis convention. He said at my age and with my infirmities it would be utterly impossible for me to venture on the fatigues of the campaign. I am 86 years old. They have very good men down there—Gov Allen for instance. Let them nominate him for President and I have very strong hopes that the people will elect him.

Delegates for Cincinnati.

Lowell, Mass., May 18.—The seventh district Republican convention to-day elected William A. Russell, of Lawrence, and C. H. Waters, of Groton, delegates to the Cincinnati convention. The delegates are unpledged, but are credited one for Blaine and the other for Bristow.

Augusta, Me., May 18.—The third district Republican convention, of this city, elected B. H. Shepard, of Skowhegan, and F. Rice, of Newcastle, to the Cincinnati convention and passed resolutions endorsing Blaine.

The Coushatta Shooting Affair.

Chicago, May 18.—The official report of the Twitchell shooting affair at Coushatta, Louisiana, has been received by Gen Sheridan and gives new and interesting particulars of the assassination. The murderer was disguised, wore goggles and was slightly painted. He started from the postoffice leading a horse to the landing where the shooting occurred, and as the boat approached commenced firing, killing a man named King who was on the boat and wounding the ferryman. Twitchell was badly wounded in both arms and in the leg. He was attempted to approach him from the shore, ... who threatened with the skiff that ... refused. General Synod of the Presbyterian Church.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America commenced its 61st annual session in this city this afternoon. The Synod represents the church membership of 600 persons. After the election of J. A. Ford as moderator, recess until to-morrow.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Excitement in an Investigating Committee.

Washington, May 18.—During Seelye's examination to-day Morey, who was present, became very excited and told the committee if Seelye was allowed to proceed with his personal ... he (Morey) would not be accountable for the consequences.

Blackburn declared the witness was not to be intimidated.

Seelye declared that he should decline to testify further if he was to be intimidated, and for a few moments things looked rather squally, but quiet was restored at last. The testimony which excited Morey was Seelye's declaration that Morey told him as proof of his influence with the Administration that he was on excellent terms with Grant and that his wife was a great friend of Mrs. Belknap and often went shopping with her. It was voted to expunge all allusions to ladies from the records.

After Davenport.

Washington, May 18.—The sub-committee of the House committee on expenditures of the department of justice started this morning to visit New York and make inquiry into the U. S. marshal's office, etc., of the southern district of New York. The committee will also investigate the district courts, the method of conducting elections in New York under Davenport's regime will also be looked into.

Blaine Denies McClure.

Blaine had his attention called to McClure's statement. He says the defect in McClure's story is that at the time of Caldwell's alleged negotiation between Julian and himself as Speaker regarding the appointment of election commissioner he had never seen and did not know there was such a man. Blaine further expresses the belief that Julian has never to this day had the slightest acquaintance with Caldwell. These assertions being so there does not seem to be much of McClure's story to stand upon and it will fall unless corroborated by Robinson, the alleged principal, and the party who saw Blaine. McClure's clique of Arkansas politicians who support Morton are exceeding bitter on Blaine because he wasn't willing last winter to join a scheme to overturn the Garland government by violence. The whole gang of carpet bag politicians in Arkansas are determined to injure Blaine.

Seelye and Morey.

The Times Washington special says Seelye's testimony is merely the blackmailing of Morey. The committee are impressed with the belief that Seelye's first purposes are to keep his own neck out of the halter or save himself from the penitentiary. While his testimony is valueless unless corroborated there is no doubt but what Morey is guilty of some disreputable affairs. The proposition of the House to-day to take testimony with open doors was defeated by a strict party vote.

Impeachment Jurisdiction.

The Times Washington special thinks the vote on impeachment jurisdiction will be had to-day. The vote will be on the point gained, as if more than one third vote against jurisdiction Belknap may escape because of the two thirds rule, although it strikes us as a foolish expectation.

Derby's Note.

New York, May 18.—The Herald's Washington correspondent describes Derby's note just received as a piece of fencing with the government to defer the issue. It does not yield to Fish's position in the slightest, and the ground is assumed that the act of 1870 has nothing necessarily to do with the dispute. Fish's objection is regarded as a mere technicality and his position untenable and absurd.

Fitzhugh's Letter Lithographed.

Washington, May 17.—Doorkeeper Fitzhugh's coarse letter has been lithographed, and will be used by the Republicans as a campaign document to show how the Democrats carry out the policy of civil service reform.

Blaine Investigation.

The sub-committee of the Judiciary committee this morning resumed the investigation of the allegations against Representative Blaine in connection with the bonds of the L. R. & Ft. Smith R. R. Co. Jas. F. Wilson was recalled and testified he informed Blaine that he understood from the statement from Harrison that his name had been connected with seventy-five bonds of that company that were in the possession of the U. P. R. R. Co. that no one could be more surprised than himself at such a report; that he never had any thing to do with those bonds and that he had no present or previous interest in them. The only theory by which he could account for such a statement was that during the negotiations between the Little Rock and Fort Smith R. R. Co. and the Improvement Company he had been requested to speak to Harrison in reference to them. He knew he did so, that he had no interest in any bonds of the company except those which he purchased and which he still held as his own property.

J. P. Morton, of Morton, Bliss & Co., testified that in June 1871 the firm loaned Carnagie $60,000 on security of 67 Union Pacific Income bonds and 75 bonds of the Little Rock and Fort Smith R. R. Co. Changes were made in the collateral from time to time. It was ascertained from Carnagie that the loan was negotiated for Col Scott. He did not know why the 75 bonds were among the collaterals. The firm did not receive a note from Colonel Scott as collateral ... they any reason to believe that Blaine had any connection or interest in the loan. Hunton here read a note from Blaine saying that in consequence of sickness he was unable to attend the investigation, but in his absence he had no objection to the examination of Morton, Dillon, Carnagie or any other who has knowledge pertaining to the investigation. The examination was resumed. He (Morton) said he knew of no transactions of his firm with Blaine or that he ever made a loan for his benefit directly or indirectly.

Carnagie testified that he had been director of the U. P. R. R. and a member of the executive committee while Col Scott was president of the company and he attended to much of Scott's business. There was a distinct understanding that if Colonel Scott should make the road a great success he should be liberally compensated. Witness was present at a meeting of the executive committee when it was agreed that the company should receive 75 bonds of Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad and pay M. B. & Co. $60,000 for them. Witness thought that at that time the bonds were worth 80c on the dollar. He made a loan for Scott depositing as collateral 17 income bonds of U. P. and ... of L. R. & F. S. R. R. bonds. As for the 6 ... he was withdrawn, then putting in their place 100 bonds of the Keokuk & Hamilton Bridge Co.

Question by Hunton: For whom did you make the loan if not for Col Scott? Answer: Col Scott asked me to make the loan for him. He wanted $60,000 and I borrowed the money for him and gave it to his private secretary, Burday. I never heard the name of Blaine connected in any way, shape or manner with this transaction.

Dillon testified that he was director of the U. P. R. R. from its commencement and was at its President in December. Col Scott in the first place was ... the executive committee to give him ... Duff, Bushnell and others were active members of the board. The witness was called on by them to consummate the arrangements. Col Scott wanted to leave bonds of ... as ... with the executive committee either to sell or ... form the basis of the loan. The executive committee thought Scott had been so much help to the company ... finances, credit and ... when Scott became President of the company all its securities were much impaired in value. The committee felt kindly toward Scott and therefore concluded to take the bonds and ... the money for them. Witness could not say whether the money was the consideration for Scott's salary as President, never having been agreed on. He never heard of Blaine's name in this connection, except it was newspaper report. The committee adjourned until to-morrow.

Washington, May 18.—The judiciary sub-committee has postponed further examination of witnesses on the charge affecting Speaker Kerr's honor until to-morrow, when he expects to be present. He is now confined to his house by fever.

Luttrell Ill.

Congressman Luttrell is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Luttrell Recovering.

Representative Luttrell's physician to-night pronounces him entirely out of danger from his attack of pneumonia and says he will be able to attend to his Congressional duties again in a few days.

Anti-Chinese Commissioner Pixley.

Washington, May 18.—Commissioner Pixley has had two long interviews with President Grant and has also talked with several members of the California delegation. All express an earnest desire to secure a remedy for the acknowledged evil and the President says the question will soon be ... the ... and Cal ... committee ... likely will be ... by the House committee on Foreign affairs to-morrow.

What Mr. Congressman Page Says.

Congressman Page says there is no need of any legislation such as is proposed by Wigginton's bill. He holds that the supreme court decision itself fully protects the settlers on Mexican and similar grant lands, because grant matter of fact none of their homestead and pre-emptions date back to the final rejection of Spanish Mexican grants, although they may have settled upon the lands previously.

Page is also of the opinion that the Interior Department ... never allowed declaration of state ment for homestead or pre-emption to be filed while the question of validity of the Mexican grant was still pending.

Decision of the Supreme Court in Newhall vs. Sanger.

Washington, May 18.—The full opinion of the supreme court in the Newhall-Sanger case, referring to lands claimed under a Mexican grant, says they were not public lands at the date of the railroad grant and of their withdrawal and that they were not in condition to be acquired by individuals or granted to corporations. From this it seems that no homestead nor pre-emption rights could attach to such lands before the final rejection of the Mexican grant under which they claimed. Therefore while the decision kills the railroad claims there is room for controversy between bona fide settlers who occupied them prior to the rejection of the grant and the persons who attempt to jump them under the new entry.

Wigginton to-day introduced a bill reciting the above facts and confirming the government title to bona fide settlers and their assigns.

Louisiana Investigation.

Washington, May 18.—The select committee of the State officers of Louisiana held a secret session last night, at which a resolution offered by Blackburn directing the chairman to ask the Attorney General for immunity for the witness Seelye was adopted by a strict party vote. The committee had another secret session at which the chairman reported he had applied to the Attorney General as directed and that officer had requested the application to be made in writing. The committee then examined C. W. Ferguson, of New Orleans, an employe in the custom house at that place, who testified he was employed in the custom house when he left New Orleans to come here, and his purpose in coming here was to expose some irregularities in the custom house. Ayre of New Orleans met the witness at his hotel in this city since he had arrived and asked witness what he was going to say, and told him that it would injure the Republican party in New Orleans. Ayre also told witness that Harvey, deputy collector at New Orleans, had plenty of money and could bring witnesses to prove that witness would not be believed under oath. Witness replied he did not think that could be done, and witness received the impression that Ayre was here to arrest some of the witnesses who might testify in this committee, as Ayre is deputy marshal and brother-in-law of Marshal Packard. Witness did not obtain leave of absence when he came here and told Ayre that he expected to have his head cut off on the first of the month. Ayre replied that he would do it if he was in their place at the custom house. In reply to Conger, witness said he asked his brother to go to the custom house and tell the officials that he was sick and could not attend to his duties, and then came up here. Witness said he was employed in the custom house in 1875 when the cases purporting as containing guava jelly were received at the custom house, consigned to a man named Huard and cases were taken to the store of Masson. One box only contained jelly, the other eleven contained cigars. The case containing jelly was opened in the presence of witness and other laborers, and they were then told that there was no more work to be done that day and they went away. Witness returned and saw the jelly box opened, but the privately opened some other boxes and found they contained cigar cases containing 31,000 cigars, and the fraud consisted in entering them as jelly. The duty on cigars was $2.50 per pound, 75 per cent ad valorem and internal revenue stamps; on jelly it was 10 per cent.

It is possible that the boat club may form an independent four for America.

Excitement in Constantinople.

London, May 18.—A letter to the Times from ... a suburb of Constantinople, says the excitement caused by the Salonica affair has not abated. A party of Softas paraded the streets of Stamboul crying, Down with the Grand Vizier. The dedication of the new English church, which had been arranged for, has been definitely postponed at the request of Sir H. G. Elliot, the British Ambassador, who had consulted the Minister of Police on the possible consequences of the ceremony. The Softas have been pacified with the government ... of January and the acceptance of Count Andrassy's note, which evinced a disposition to place all religious denominations on an equal footing. The first alarm felt there was occasioned by the well founded report that the Softas and the Mussulman roughs who are ruled by them were buying revolvers, daggers and other weapons. The Christians have resorted to similar precautions. There is no doubt meanwhile that all our speculations on the perils that threaten us, and of the various means by which we may attempt to avert it, contribute largely to foster and increase our uneasiness and become in themselves our greatest and most real danger.

Turkish Invective against Christians.

A Vienna dispatch from Constantinople says an outrage, as article which appeared in the Levant Herald Wednesday has caused great indignation among the diplomatic body and public at large, as the Herald is generally temperate and cautious. The invective is supposed to have been inspired by Midhat Pacha or the anti-Russian party. The Herald has been suspended.

Better News from Salonica.

The news from Salonica is somewhat reassuring. The burial of the murdered French and German consuls took place on Wednesday. Panic at Constantinople.

A letter from Constantinople under date of the 12th says the excitement during the last three days amounted to a panic. The demand for weapons, both by Softas and Christians, was so great that most of the shops in Stamboul have sold out their stocks. The Softas—that is, all persons attached to the mosques in any capacity whatever—are practically masters of the situation. They number about 10,000, and their influence over the proletarians is supreme. They utter threats against the Sultan and his ministers and sometimes against the Christians. Although quiet now, they profess to be friends to the latter. Yesterday a great number of them went to the palace and demanded the dismissal of the Grand Vizier, Mahmud Nedim Pasha, the Sheikh ul Islam and the minister of war. The Sultan resisted for an hour, but the clamor of the mob finally induced him to demand the resignation of Mahommed Nedim Pasha, the Grand Vizier. The scene was most riotous and disorderly. Constantinople contains only 1,... regular soldiers, the remainder being recruits. Turkish officers openly admit their inability to control the latter in case of an outbreak, and it is generally believed they would obey the Softas. A mob of Softas, which in parading the streets during the last three days demanding the dismissal of Mahomed Nedim Pasha, whom they accuse of being under Persian influence. Threats have been made against Christians generally, and two or three murders have occurred, which the police are doing their utmost to hush up. Constantinople is in fact in revolution. The Softas are not satisfied with the appointment of Mehemet Rushdi as Grand Vizier and clamor for Midhat Pacha. They want Mehemet Rushdi as President. Yesterday large numbers of Softas at Bajazet mosque would not allow the prayer for the Sultan to be read. On the 10th inst. Professor Jodunay Price and wife narrowly escaped a violence of mob while visiting the mosque.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

Washington, May 18.—Morton submitted a resolution instructing the committee recently appointed to inquire into the late election in Mississippi to inquire also into the alleged killing of people and outrages committed near the Mississippi and Louisiana line at Bayou Tunica. He read dispatches received by Gov. Kellogg, now in the city, from H. C. Clarke, his private secretary, dated New Orleans, May 17th, stating that fugitives from the scene of trouble had arrived and that the details were horrible; that six white men were killed and forty negroes killed and hanged, and asking that the special committee of the Senate be authorized to investigate the matter. The resolution was agreed to.

During the morning hour the Senate passed the House bill authorizing the appointment of receivers of national banks and for other purposes.

At 1 o'clock legislative business was suspended and the consideration of articles of impeachment against W. W. Belknap was resumed with closed doors.

House.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from G. M. Adams, clerk of the House, asking for an investigation into the charges made against him in the Chicago Inter Ocean, charging that a member of Congress claimed to have in his possession facts which he will make public, showing that Adams has been selling his appointments at sums ranging from $100 to $500. He respectfully asks for an early and thorough investigation, and says the charges are absolutely false. The matter was referred to a special committee of five.

The report in regard to the government printing office was then taken up and discussed. The proposition to give the printing of the debates to Frank Hu Rivers was amended so as to leave it open to competition.

Wood, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill abolishing tax on receipts of savings banks; passed.

Eaton, from the committee on war claims, reported a bill making an appropriation for the payment of claims reported allowed by the commissioner of claims; made the special order for Friday next.

On motion of Dunnell the House concurred in the Senate amendments to extend the time to preemptors to public lands.

Whitthorne, from the naval committee, reported a bill that the navy yards at Brooklyn, Kittery, Charleston and Norfolk be retained for general purposes and those at Pensacola and Mare Island be retained as naval rendezvous and for temporary repairs, and the yards at Washington be used only for manufacturing purposes under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, and the yards at League Island and Newton be abandoned, and such property thereto appertaining when the same cannot be utilized or secured without too great expense, be sold and the proceeds turned into the treasury, and the Secretary of the Navy shall also take measures to award the recession of sale to the donors thereof and report thereon next session of this Congress at its convenience.

The bills to reduce the number of officers of the line and staff and reorganize the marine corps were ordered printed and recommitted. The House then went into committee of the whole, Springer in the chair, on the postoffice appropriations bill.

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

General Hawley Re-elected.

Philadelphia, May 18.—At a meeting of the U. S. Commission this afternoon General Hawley was re-elected president of the Centennial Commission.

PETROLEUM PROSPECTS.

[From the Titusville (Pa.) Herald.]

The production of this year will not probably exceed that of last year—on the contrary it is likely to fall short of it. But admitting that it is equal with a consumption of 12,000,000 barrels and a production of only 8,198,295, the probable production will fall short 3,500,000 barrels of the actual demands of the trade, and as a necessary consequence our present stock will be completely absorbed before the close of the current year. Not the least interesting part of the situation consists in the fact that a very large portion of the stock of actual oil above ground is in the region, is now held by strong capitalists for the prices which the situation must very soon demand. Heretofore and at present these same parties have been buyers of crude at the lowest possible figures. As already stated the daily shipments for the three months under review averaged 20,000 barrels, and it is estimated that the daily average shipments for April will be about the same. This is about 13,000 barrels per day less than the probable average demand. This will have to be added to the average monthly demand of 11,000 barrels a day for the current year, which would bring the daily average shipments for the last eight months of the year up to ... 000 barrels per day, or 15,000 barrels per day higher than the highest estimates yet made by any one of the probable production. This will necessitate a heavy draft upon the stocks, and it will only remain for the owners thereof to fix their own price. Previous to the year 1875 the production invariably kept pace with or at times exceeded the consumption, but from the beginning of the year 1875 this was entirely reversed. We find a constantly diminishing production and a constantly increasing demand, with nothing in the future outlook to change the new order of things. We have already mentioned that there was a loss in 1875 of 182,500 barrels of oil in iron tanks by fire. This was not exceptional, as oil stored in iron tanks seems to be greatly exposed to lightning. Already and since the above report was compiled 43,000 barrels of crude oil were destroyed in the first thunder storm of the year.

Sheep shearing has commenced in earnest in Eastern Oregon. The wool yield in that section this spring is unusually large.

The 500-Mile Walking Match.

San Francisco, May 18.—The attendance on the pedestrian match increases with each successive afternoon and evening. Schmehl walked better last evening than he did earlier in the day. This forenoon the pedestrians were continuing mile after mile and hour after hour with seemingly unabated vigor and activity. O'Leary appeared as gamy and active as ever. He does not seem to be making very great exertion, but to be walking rather easily as if nursing his strength. At 12:28 Schmehl had walked 160 miles and two laps. He then retired. O'Leary retired at 11:37 A. M., having completed his 190th mile. Schmehl made his 150th mile at 9:57 A. M., the entire time occupied in walking that distance being 57 hours 7 minutes and 7 seconds. Schmehl resumed his walk at 10 o'clock, and astonished both timers and spectators by his improved appearance and gait. Last night he placed himself under the care of an experienced trainer, under whose directions he has developed unexpected powers of speed and endurance. He promises to diminish greatly the difference between his score and that of O'Leary. Within an hour he caught and passed O'Leary three times. There seems some reason to believe that his statement previous to the race to the effect that the first two or three days told most heavily on him, but that after that he improves in condition, may prove correct, and that he will pull up strongly in the latter part of the race. A good deal of money is up on the result.

O'Leary is still walking rapidly and easily. He is behind the time of his previous tramp, but offers to bet he will make 500 miles in the six days. The improvement noted yesterday in Schmehl's condition has not proved permanent and he is now walking slowly and with great difficulty and will probably soon give it up.

Bondholders of the Central Pacific ...

San Francisco, May 18.—It seems evident that the suits brought against the C. P. R. R. Co. by stockholders in this State, calling for an accounting and enjoining the payment of interest on the bonds of the California Pacific are causing uneasiness among the German bondholders of the latter road. They appear to be of the impression that so far as they are concerned the C. P. Co. would be gainers by the operation, as that company has endorsed the bonds of the California Pacific to the amount of several millions, and these suits are brought partly to have such endorsement declared invalid. The proposition of the Central Pacific to the German bondholders of the California Pacific was virtually to accept, in lieu of their ... and a half million bonds on which interest is defaulted, bonds to the amount of two millions endorsed by the Central Pacific R. R. Co. These suits, if successful, would effectually block any such arrangement. These same German bondholders are, in many instances, holders of a portion of the other bonds of the California Pacific to the amount of $1,600,000, on which the C. P. have been paying interest. The injunction would also shut off the payment of interest on those bonds. It is understood that communications have been received in this city from German bondholders which evince the concern they feel for their interests in the present contest.

The Bulletin Sues the Alta.

The proprietors of the Bulletin to-day brought another suit for libel against the Alta in the 3d district court. The suit is based on the same article on which the previous complaint was laid, and is virtually the same case, but in another court.

Premature Publication of Testimony.

The publication in the Eastern journals of the testimony of D. O. Mills, S. H. Howard and Michael Reese, taken before the court commissioner, excites considerable comment, as the examination was private, and only the official reporter and reporters in the employ of the parties to the suit were present, the intention being to withhold the publication of the testimony until it had been presented to the court. The examination took place about the 20th of April, and the case is not likely to come up before July.

Anti-Chinese Meetings.

San Francisco, May 18.—A number of anti-coolie clubs held meetings last evening and listened to the usual addresses, etc. Several of them passed resolutions endorsing Senator Sargent's course on the question in Congress. Considerable effort is being made to have a rousing anti-coolie meeting in Oakland this evening. A general invitation to be present is extended to the business men of that city.

Fires.

San Francisco, May 18.—A fire at Tubb's Hotel, Oakland, to-day, caused for awhile the greatest confusion and alarm among the inmates. It created a deal of excitement, also, among the managers of the house in this city, a great number of whom made a rush for Oakland on hearing the news. Had the wind been blowing the hotel would no doubt have been a total loss. The damage by fire and water is about $1,000 on furniture and building.

Cherokee Flat, May 17.—Last night a fire occurred in the lower town which consumed Jones' saloon building and the adjoining blacksmith shop. Henry Jones, proprietor of the former, barely escaped with his life. Loss, about $2,000; no insurance.

Suicide.

Los Angeles, May 17.—At a little after 11 o'clock to-night we learn that Wm. Workman, one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of this county, committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol some time during yesterday afternoon. The first intelligence of this lamentable occurrence was carried to a Mr. Jackson by F. W. Temple, who lives about six miles from Mr. Workman's ranche. Mr. Jackson soon after came to town and took out Mr. Temple and son. While we do not know the immediate cause for this sorrowful act, there is no doubt but that it results from the late unfortunate business complications. Mr. Workman is sixty-seven years old. Although the news was brought to this city at a late hour to-night it created quite a sensation and has become pretty generally known throughout the city.

Los Angeles, May 18.—News has just been received that W. H. Workman, formerly a banker and partner of F. P. Temple, committed suicide at 9 o'clock this evening, at his ranche, by shooting himself through the head. The cause assigned is depression over the sheriff's sale of his property yesterday.

Funeral of Mr. Workman.

The funeral of the late Wm. Workman will take place at Puente ranch to-morrow at 1 o'clock. He will be buried on his homestead. A special train will leave the depot of Southern Pacific railroad to convey his friends and the members of the Masonic Order to attend the funeral.

The weather is clear and calm.

Abduction.

Eulalia Parez Guillen, the oldest woman at the mission of San Gabriel, 140 years of age, was kidnapped and carried away last evening in defiance of the order of the probate court, and is now concealed by one of her daughters and a party of speculators who intend to take her to the Centennial for exhibition. The court this afternoon made an order which may lead to her recovery.

Injury to Vineyards.

Santa Barbara, May 17.—Reports from the interior say the vineyards are seriously damaged by cut worms. In many instances the crops are completely destroyed.

A meeting of directors of the State Agricultural Society, to revise the premium list and make arrangements for the approaching State fair, will be held in this city to-morrow.

Grand Barbecue.

Stockton, May 18.—The grand barbecue and picnic, tendered by the settlers and their friends of Moquelumne Grant, to be held at Lodi to-morrow, will be an immense affair. Fully 10,000 people will participate in the celebration. The late decision of the Supreme Court in the case affects the pecuniary interests of the farmers and settlers in this vicinity to an amount approximating a million dollars. Business houses and banks will close to-morrow, and a general exodus from the city to the picnic grounds will take place. Special trains will be run during the day to the grounds.

The weather is delightful, but rather warm.

President Marsh informs the Independent that a company of fifty eight Swedes came on the same steamer from San Francisco with him, bound for the northeast part of Washington county. Last Sunday morning a woman who lives near Harris Bridge, Washington county, took a heavy dose of some narcotic poison, opium, it is supposed, and was barely saved by the timely arrival of Dr. Pryce. Her father and mother had dosed her heavily with mustard, etc., which produced no effect, and the doctor gave her large and repeated doses of powerful emetics before her stomach would act. Her face was livid, her eyes fixed and her feeling entirely gone. Congestion of the brain and sure death would soon have hurried her out of the world. The cause is said to be domestic trouble.

The Oregon City Enterprise says: Last Saturday afternoon the Occident, one of the W. R. T. & L. Co.'s boats, came into the basin for the purpose of unloading a quantity of wheat for the Oregon City Mills. It seems that the captain, contrary to the usual custom, brought his boat in under a full head of steam, and while passing the boneyard the heavy swells caused thereby threw the little steamer Dayton on a snag, knocking a hole in her bottom and she sank almost immediately. On Monday three pumps were put in her and worked from the Bonanza, and after pumping away all day they managed to raise her again.

The Hillsboro Independent says: The prospect for a bountiful fruit crop in Washington county is better than it has been for several years. Last year the severe winter and late frosts killed the fruit to a considerable extent, and there was not an average crop, but this year the weather thus far has been quite favorable and the trees are just crowded with bloom and young fruit. Many farmers have replanted their orchards and pruned the old trees and put them in a healthy condition, and in a few years Washington county will export many bushels of fruit. We need a fruit dryer in the county now to manufacture our surplus product and also to stimulate a larger production.

A KITTLE AND POT CONTROVERSY.

Either Major Seelye, late of the U. S. marshal's office in New Orleans and now of the New York customs house, is the most robust liar in America, or the Congressional snellers have got their noses into a very foul place. He disports himself in the narration of corruptions and rascalities committed by himself and a number of other distinguished individuals with a freshness and gaiety that must be a delight to the members of the Democratic gentlemen of the committee. And then the manner in which he halts at short intervals and declines to go further into the particulars of the particular item under investigation lest by doing so he may "criminate himself and others," lends the charm of variety and originality to the whole proceeding. Mr. Congressman Morey, who seems to possess a genius for mixing himself up with dirty affairs, unsurpassed by any living American except Gen. Babcock, says that Seelye is simply swearing away the reputations of other people to prevent them from swearing him into the penitentiary. From what has thus far been shown by Major Seelye, it would not be unreasonable to infer that he is a very proper person to occupy quarters in one of those reformatory institutions; but it is painfully apparent at the same time that Mr. Morey has long been on such terms of intimacy and confidence with the Major as to suggest to the average mind the familiar adage about birds of a feather. We suspect the two have some very emphatic traits of character in common. And then the Major has a theory of the situation which is by no means inconsistent with this supposition, but rather serves to reconcile all the facts of the case. He says of Mr. Morey just what Mr. Morey says of him, to-wit: that Mr. Morey is trying to get him into the penitentiary to save himself. This is, to all appearances, a case wherein rogues have fallen out, but whether honest men will get their dues as a consequence seems rather problematical, since there appears to have been very few if any of that class of persons concerned in the transactions in which the two have been engaged. Were we sufficiently informed of the antecedents of either of these individuals to give our readers a history of their lives, we should be glad to do so, as it is certain they are both miracles in some way or other. All we know beyond the interesting disclosures of this investigation is that Seelye has been a somewhat noted actor in the carpet-bag drama in Louisiana, and that Morey crept into the last Congress from that State by what looked like most outrageous frauds, where he was an exceedingly uninteresting luminary even among the tallow-dips of that House of Representatives, and is little more to be noted even in the obscurities of the present assemblage of small detectives.

THE FIGURES OF THE FIGURERS.

As the time approaches for holding the National Republican Convention, the political soothsayers are issuing their predictions as to how the vote will stand in that convention for President. It is a singular fact that while Mr. Blaine has a far greater number of delegates instructed for him than any other candidate, and though to all appearances a very large proportion of the uninstructed delegates are reported to be favorable to Blaine, most of the calculations end in the conclusion that some other man than Blaine will receive the nomination. The reason for this probably is, that the opponents of Blaine do most of the figuring, being prompted thereto by the desire to figure him out. With about 150 instructed delegates, while no other candidate can count two-thirds of that number, and with more instructed than any other candidate can command, it is hardly likely the relative strength of the various men will be so changed by the delegates yet to be chosen as to give the nomination to some other. Secretary Bristow has much strength in the wishes of the people, but little with the political managers, and though he would be a most successful candidate, if not the most acceptable, he is likely to have less votes at the opening of the convention than Conkling or Morton, both of whom will be behind Blaine.

The condition of affairs at Constantinople as described in the telegraphic reports is extremely alarming. The Saftas, who seem to be officials of one sort or another connected with the Mosques, have complete control of the population of the city and are using their power to overawe the lawful authorities and to stir up the turbulent and easily excited Turks to animosity against the Christians. It is said they have caused the resignation of an objectionable Grand Vizier and the appointment of another who is in sympathy with themselves. When it is remembered that the ground of objection to the late Grand Vizier was his willingness to accept and carry out the plan of reform proposed by Count Andrassy, the significance of their action is much greater than it would have been if any cause had prompted the Saftas' action. The Sultan appears to be wholly unable to maintain order in his capital. There are only 1,000 regular troops in the city beside the volunteers. The volunteers, the Turkish officers openly say, are unreliable and most probably in sympathy with the Saftas. They would no doubt side with rather than against them. The remaining forces are by no means adequate to the task of controlling the angry mob. It is greatly to be feared that a bloody riot will break out and cause the destruction of a great many lives and much property.

Salonica, the place of the riot which has produced so great commotion in Turkey, is the most important commercial city in the European part of the empire. It contains about 75,000 inhabitants, only 5,000 of whom are Turks, 30,000 being Jews and the rest Greeks and Franks, or Christians, as they are called. The riot was occasioned by an act of indiscreet bigotry on the part of the American consular agent at that city. A Christian girl concluded to embrace the Mohammedan religion, and took her abode with the Mohammedan Turks, whereupon the American consular agent, Mr. Lorano, set about inflaming the minds of the Christians with a purpose to rescue the girl. The attempt produced a furious riot, during which the French and German consuls went to the Mohammedan mosque and were killed by the exasperated Turks, in spite of the efforts of the Governor to save them. The attempt to rescue the girl was a foolish thing, but it may turn out to have been one of those foolish things destined to work a great good to civilization.

The great Mustang race, near New York, started yesterday at 4 A. M. and continued until the 220th mile was being run, when it came to an ignominious termination by the rider giving out and being obliged to stop. Thirty Mustangs were taken from California to New York specially for this trial of skill and endurance. Long races such as this, though not common, have occasionly been run. Mr. Geo. Osbaldiston, in England, rode 200 miles in less than nine hours for a bet of about $5,000. The day the match came off was a terrific one for such an undertaking, the wind blowing a gale and a cold sleety rain falling. But Mr. Osbaldiston persisted, and in spite of a severe fall from a horse which stumbled over a dog that got in his way, he won his match with an hour and twenty-eight minutes to spare. Mr Osbaldiston was not much, if anything, the worse for his severe ride, as, after taking a warm bath, he was able to preside over a dinner party until long after midnight.

The Democratic brethren were doing some splendid caucusing yesterday, and will keep it up to-day with increased activity. It is not very easy to see just why they take such an extremely human interest in the matter. No one who has paid any attention to the subject can doubt that this county, on a fair vote between the two parties, is Republican by a large majority. The Republicans, well united and awake to the occasion, have no occasion to think of defeat. If they are not successful in electing their candidates, their failure will be attributable to the want of effort; and the importance given to the elections by the fact that the choice of a United States Senator is involved, will certainly cause them to put forth whatever effort may be required. The question of party ought to have little influence in local affairs, but it becomes a very important question when the office involved is that of United States Senator.

The excitement at Constantinople continues. The representatives of foreign governments feel called upon to exercise the utmost vigilance and be prepared for any emergency. An event of little moment in itself seems likely to produce consequences of serious import to the civilized world. If the end should be such an involvent of the Ottoman government as to disturb its relations to the Western powers and make way for its overthrow, the world would be much benefited.

Inquiry is made why the OREGONIAN does not "hoist the State ticket to the head of its columns." The OREGONIAN has not for a good many years "hoisted" any ticket to the head of its columns." Of course it is a mere matter of taste whether a paper "hoists" the ticket it supports or not, and as a matter of taste we prefer not to "hoist," while many papers like the other way better and adopt it.

Rev. Addison Jones, of Salem, in an article in the Statesman, makes this vigorous application of the principle of sound morals to political duty:

Whenever any man is trying to do right simply because it is right, and is stoutly rejecting the wrong, simply because it is wrong, he will be sustained. He may lose his share of the stolen "loaves and fishes," may even that which was not stolen, and which rightly belongs to him, but it will be made up to him probably even in this world, but most assuredly in the world to come. It would be well to remember that in political as well as in religious affairs, God watches nations and rulers, and has an eye to the ballot boxes. And if we vote for ring masters, and sweaners, and scoffers, and Sabbath breakers, and whoremongers and adulterers, He will punish us. If we try to do them good (but not by putting them in office!) He will help us.

A GOOD WASHING MACHINE.

COMPLETE WASHER

WITH GREAT SATISFACTION WE TESTIFY to the wonderful qualities of the "COMPLETE WASHER" Machine, which is in use by many of the best families in our city, because it makes the wash day one of pleasure, and causes no wear in clothing or tire to operator. It is by exercise and exhaustive labor by the women of our land, who are toiling all day long on an ordinary family washing in the old suds, wearing away their knuckle bones and very lives every week in the year, and going out from the seething tub to the cold air, which causes our mothers, sisters and loved ones to take cold so easily, causing pains in the back and limbs, rheumatism, pleurisy, chills and fever, etc., sometimes resulting in death. Ladies rescue yourselves from this thraldom, and purchase a "Complete Washer," the Premium Washer of our land, which consumes time and does away with this excessive labor, for you know that for one to handle by hand large articles such as quilts etc., it is exceedingly difficult by the old mode. We advise and entreat every body therefore to possess one of these Machines. They are within the reach of every family.
Best of Refrigerators and Clothes Lines always on hand.
Of the great number who have this Machine in Oregon and on the Pacific Slope, not one would part with it. Hundreds and thousands of such testimonials could be added.

UMATILLA COUNTY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Umatilla county is better adapted to the grazing of sheep, cattle and horses than any other county in the State. Along its rivers the winters are comparatively mild, while the bottoms and low hills afford abundant winter pasturage. Cattle and horses require but little attention after being marked and branded. Sheep are closely herded to prevent straying and to keep back the wolf. As soon as the sheep are clipped they are driven away to the mountains, where they are kept till winter. Fresh grass and shelter from the summer's sun are the inducements for driving to the mountains.

The cattle men are hurling bitter anathemas at the sheep men. Cattle will not feed where sheep have been; consequently the cattle men have good cause to be alarmed at the aggressive movements of the rapidly increasing flocks of sheep around them.

Farming is principally confined to the river and creek bottoms. Here the soil is productive. Corn, peaches and melons mature to perfection. Even the sage brush plains, under the hand of industry, are made to yield rich harvests of golden grain. This may seem incredible to those who came the "weary plains across" years ago; nevertheless it is true.

The great scarcity of timber works a hardship on many of the residents of this county. Mr. Wright, who lives near the mouth of Butter creek, told us that he hauled his poles for fencing from the Blue mountains, a distance of forty-five miles. From its source to within twelve miles of its mouth, the Umatilla is fringed with a dwarfed growth of palm, which affords ample material for fence building.

In traveling over the country, one meets with many pretty and comfortable residences; but a large majority of the dwelling houses are built of rude logs, having puncheon floors and dirt roofs. No: they don't leak; but they caused your correspondent to feel quite uncomfortable to think that he was so soon to sleep "under ground."

The people here do not complain of the too much system of rain, but the too little. Last week, James Taylor, formerly of Benton county, hauled off a lot of hay to the Twelve Mile House. This hay was baled, in the meadow last summer, where it had lain, uncovered ever since. The purchaser made no deduction for dampness, for the hay was dry. We know many of your readers below will be slow to believe this, but we are able to prove it true. In my next I shall speak of the schools, the climate and of things in general. J. J. B.

MRS. DR. B. A. OWENS,

Office and residence, east side First Street, between Yamhill and Taylor. Special attention given to Women and Children complaints. Also gives Medicated Vapor Baths in treating Rheumatism and Chronic Diseases.

The undersigned in taking leave of Portland returns his sincere thanks for the liberal patronage that has been bestowed, and would bespeak for his successors a continuance of the same.

ONE DOLLAR EXPENDED now in purchasing a bottle of Jayne's Expectorant, by those troubled with a slight Cough or Hoarseness, or Sore Throat, may save the expense of a doctor's bill. A neglected Cough often ends in Consumption. A slight Inflammation of the lining of the wind tubes, the usual symptoms of which are Sore Throat and a Pain in the Breast, frequently leads to Bronchitis. A day's delay may entail months of suffering. Better try at once Jayne's Expectorant, a standard remedy, whose curative properties have been tested by thousands.

POND'S EXTRACT has no equal for immediate relief, and by persistent use final cure in all cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Aches of all kinds, Bleeding from any cause, etc. etc. all of which is fully treated upon in the little pamphlet accompanying each bottle.

A heavy thunder storm ... Walla last week.

The Old School Presbyterians have organized a church at Fort Lapwai agency which now numbers 470 members, all Indians.

Upon a favorable report of the examining committee, Capt. L. K. Grim, editor of the Spirit, was admitted to the bar as an attorney at law at Walla Walla last week.

Hugh O'Riley, a soldier who murdered a companion in arms at Walla Walla, several months ago, was convicted of manslaughter last week and sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

We are informed that the fruit trees all through the Walla Walla valley are in excellent condition and promise abundant crops. Peaches that last year were a total failure, this season will yield abundantly.

A communication from Vancouver, signed "We 'uns," is received, giving an account of a quarrel and fight between a citizen and a soldier at that place last Saturday night. The writer, whoever he may be, should have sent his name.

During a murder trial at Walla Walla the other day, an attorney attempting to quote Scripture, said that the Lord "declared" to Adam at the Garden of Eden "that the wife should forsake her father and mother, her sister and husband and cleave unto herself."

A letter from Oro Fino, Idaho, says that the mining interests are promising for the coming year. A great deal of snow fell and lay on late, so that there is a good prospect for plenty of water. A new creek has also been struck that pays well and promises well for the future.

The Boise Statesman of the 13th says: "Mr. John Cuddy's residence, on the Weiser was burned with nearly all its contents, at about 3 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Cuddy writes that he cannot account for the catastrophe, as there was no fire in the house after 9 o'clock the evening before. The mills and other buildings are all safe."

A letter from Yakima dated May 11th, says: "I have just returned from a trip to Yakima county. That country never looked more beautiful than it does at the present time. The grass could not present a finer appearance, and the grain crop is full of promise for an abundant yield. The rains have been unusually heavy for that country. The necessity for irrigation is much lessened.

The government store-house at Wallula was sold at public vendue last Tuesday, by auctioneer Whitman, to Wm. Stephens for $150 currency. Mr. Stephens bid it in for the railroad company. It is a large, solid building that must have cost several thousand dollars when it was constructed fourteen or fifteen years ago. Lumber was very high priced in those day. As late as 1865, $50 per thousand had to be paid for lumber at that place.

Mr. Austin Savage, U. S. internal revenue collector for Idaho, has been appointed one of the judges in the department of mining at the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. The appointment is a good one, because Mr. Savage was one of the first miners on the coast, having worked in the gold fields of California in 1850. He is thoroughly familiar with all the details and appliance for placer and hydraulic mining, as he was actively engaged in mining for over twelve years."

John Lee, of Silver City, Idaho, last week confessed to a knowledge of stage robbery, which led to his own arrest and that of three others in Silver City, namely: George Bouldin, John Souder and James Trask. These four men were all arrested in Silver City on Thursday of last week, and in the afternoon of the same day Chas. W. Downey, the driver of the Silver City stage, and who was driving at the time of the robbery, was arrested in this city immediately on the arrival of the stage from Silver. The confession of Lee led to the recovery of a portion of the treasure taken from Wells, Fargo & Co.

J. D. Lamam returned to Walla Walla on Wednesday from Colville valley. He reports all things very quiet in that region. The only excitement being the departure of the steamer "49" loaded with Chinamen and whites for the upper Columbia mines. A party of men who came into Colville last fall from a prospecting tour on the Pen d'Oreille, had returned to their claims prepared to work them during the spring and summer. He says that the season is backward in the valley, and that it is all afloat with melted snow and rain water —the mud being almost unfathomable. He came down in four days and a half.

Parties just down from the Upper Columbia, near the mouth of the Spokane river, state that there are from 75 to 100 Chinamen and several white men engaged in mining on the bars of the Columbia, who are doing quite well. The Columbia is rising steadily and bids fair to keep up longer than usual, as the snow is reported to be very deep in the mountains to the north and east. Earthquake shocks are of daily occurrence, and the loud ominous noises that have made the regions of the country around Lake Chelan and the Methow river a terror to the Indians for years, are still heard. As yet no one has visited that region to find out what is going on in that part of the laboratory of nature.

Sealed Proposals

WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE SUPERINTENDENT of the Oregon State Penitentiary, at his office in Salem, until 6 o'clock P. M. June 17, 1876, (which said proposals will be opened in presence of the Governor and Secretary of State at 3 o'clock P. M. June 19,) for leasing to the highest bidder the labor of thirty-five convicts for a period of not exceeding four years.

Said labor to be performed within the Prison enclosures, and the convicts to be subject to Prison discipline and rules, viz: seven working hours from Oct. 1st to April 1st, and ten working hours from April 1st to Oct. 1st of each year, with entire exemption from labor each and every Saturday afternoon.

No bid for less than 50 cents per day will be considered. Payment required quarterly in U. S. gold coin. Bonds for 5 per cent. of the amount involved in the proposal, to accompany each bid as guarantee of fulfillment of contract if accepted.

Among the 35 men are four blacksmiths. Also, the State will furnish blacksmith's tools and shop-room, free of charge, and will enlarge the premises if sufficient men are let to justify so doing.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

940 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground claimed by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately surveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again. FRAGMENTS.

The fresh life building forth in leaves—
Three swallows calling from the eaves—
And summer's here.

A hazy cloudlet sailing o'er,
Launched from the far horizon's shore
And then—the storm.

A breath, a tone, a word of strife
And, ere we look again, a life
Shrouded in gloom.

Only a little word—God I live
And yet two true hearts parted be,
For aye for aye.

A bridal robe of spotless white
A wreath of orange flowers to-night
To-morrow—doom.

From life's poor fragments we may scan
The outlines of a hidden plan,
From day to day.

But He to whom all Time is nought,
Future and Past one Present thought—
"Judge not," hath said. H.

GEORGE M. PINNEY.

HE IS DISCOVERED WITH HALF BREEDS IN THE MOUNTAINS OF MONTANA.

Not only our citizens, but those of the entire country and especially the residents of the Pacific slope, will read with amazement the following: Doubtless a vast number of our readers will incline to the belief that we have been imposed upon; that in an eager desire to furnish our patrons with the news at the earliest possible moment, we have become unwittingly the promulgator of a purely sensational story. Be that as it may, we see our duty clear, and, as chroniclers of passing events, do not see how we can avoid printing that which we consider as issuing from a reliable source. Portions of the following may be sensational, and we incline to the belief they are, but yet events have come to pass more marvelous, and why should we hesitate in giving credence to this.

About three weeks ago an old hunter who passed his early life among the Chippewas of the Red river of the north, and whose later years have been with the Piegan and Blackfoot Indians, is our authority for this

O'ER WONDROUS TALE.

One morning he left his camp near a small spring, situated in the main range of the Rocky mountains, between Cut-Bank creek and Chief Mountain, near the British line, for the purpose of hunting. He had proceeded but a few miles when his horse suddenly became frightened. Dismounting, he led him up a gully, and cautiously retracing his way, peered over and into a neighboring ravine, where he saw three half breeds seated around a camp-fire. On a pile of blankets and robes, he discerned an object which he conjectured to be that of

A WOUNDED MAN.

As the sequal will show, his conjectures were verified. In a moment he was in their camp, and as the hour was fast approaching for dinner, he remained, at their invitation, to partake of it. Learning that the person on the robes was a wounded white man, and impelled by a desire to assist in alleviating his sufferings, he approached and offered his services, which were gratefully accepted. Possessing, like all mountaineers, some knowledge of surgery, he soon fashioned some splints, and properly bandaged the broken limb. It seems that the sufferer, while riding his horse at break-neck speed the day before, was thrown to the ground, resulting in the breaking of his leg. After everything was arranged for his comfort, he opened conversation with the old hunter, and plied him with many questions concerning the States, especially the Western portion. At last the hunter said. "Pardon me, but it seems that for one, whom I consider to be an Englishman, you are well acquainted with the country on this side of the line. Who are you?"

The stricken one raised on his elbow, and with his glittering grey eyes riveted on the one before him, in cold and measured tones said:

"Who am I? I am one who once gloried in the name of an American citizen; my country honored me with offices of trust, and I, yes I, betrayed them. Justice is reaching out her hand for me; my friends have passed away, the spies of my foes are dogging my footsteps, and I a fugitive from the land of my nativity. Friend,

I AM GEORGE M. PINNEY.

Do not interrupt me, but listen to my recital. You see me here on my way to Helena. I met with this accident, and therefore must retrace my steps to British soil. It was my intention to visit my old haunts, the scene of so many happy, and yet so many dreary hours. I flattered myself that by traveling incog. I could with those trusty fellows you see around me, pass a few pleasant days in the mountains near the Montana town. The fates have ordained otherwise. Pay close attention to what I now have to say concerning my wanderings, and if you make mention of it to the world speak it as I tell it. The entire country is at fault concerning the direction I took when fleeing from San Francisco. Strange as it may appear,

I DID NOT GO TO PERU,

But on the contrary, remained in San Francisco four days after my rumored departure on a Peru-bound bark. In a disguise that would baffle the scrutiny of the keenest detective on earth, I boarded the train and kept traveling day and night until I landed in New York. Crossing the Courtlandt street ferry, I walked into the city and took up my quarters at Earle's Hotel, in Canal street. I forgot to say that I was unaccompanied, and the report that

A WOMAN WAS WITH ME

Is a base fabrication, and gotten up by sensational San Francisco reporters. After a few days stay at Earle's Hotel, I engaged passage on a Cunard steamer for Liverpool. The weather was propitious and the trip was a splendid one in every respect save one. I could not fly away from my conscience. Oh, how it gnawed my very vitals. At times I feared I would go mad; I, who often boasted of possessing none of the finer feelings, and having a heart of adamant. But this is foreign to the subject in hand. Heaven seemed to smile even upon me, a criminal, for I landed in the best of health at the

GREAT LANDING STAGE OF LIVERPOOL.

Taking a cab I was soon at the N. W. R. R. depot. I went to London by way of Crewe and Rugby, and one night about dusk arrived at Euston Square Station. For a long time I remained at the Sussex Hotel, near the Strand, and strange as it may appear, six hours after the first breakfast I partook of at this house, I became aware that detectives from Scotland Yard were upon my track. I was literally surrounded by spies. The city of fog was too hot for comfort, and I bad adieu to it and left by the N. S. S. line for Ostend, and soon

WAS ON BELGIUM SOIL.

Sick and tired of this country and its inhabitants, and having a troubled conscience only to be partially appeased by travel, I crossed the frontier and journeyed to Paris by Chemin de fere du Ford. Here as in London, I was under surveillance, and the gen-d'armes persistently kept track of all my movements. Leaving the gay capital I proceeded to Italy by way of the Mont Cenis tunnel, and lingered for a few days in Brindisi. There I took the P. O. S. S. Co's steamship Arabia, and passing through the Mediterranean sea, arrived at

PORT SAID, IN EGYPT.

Here, for the first time my health gave way. Skilled physicians and careful nurses brought me out, and soon I was passing through the Suez Canal. I will not tire your patience by relating how I passed from there to Melbourne, and the sufferings I endured while

SHIPWRECKED

Between that place and Victoria, British Columbia. You can readily see how easy it was for me to reach here from the place last mentioned. Now, friend, farewell. You will see my Helena friends; to them give my undying regards, and say that while I have blackened my name with infamy, I dare to hope that some of them will still think of me as one who is not irrevocably lost. You will hear from me again. I know not where I will direct my steps, but of this be assured, that though I am

A SECOND "WANDERING JEW,"

The world will at all times learn of my whereabouts. Take the Helena Herald—my former sworn enemy—and ere long you will see in its columns the startling truths concerning my past, and the life before me. Heaven bless you for alleviating the sufferings of an outcast. Farewell, farewell"—Helena Herald.

Gold in New York, 112⅜.

Legal Tenders in Portland buying 89; selling 90.

Coin Exchange on San Francisco ½ per cent.

Coin Exchange on New York ¾ per cent. premium.

Telegraphic transfers on New York 1 per cent. premium.

Currency Exchange on New York ½ per cent. premium.

Currency Exchange on San Francisco ½ per cent. premium.

Gold Bars 800 par.

The local money market is undisturbed by any material fluctuations, and with a large supply of loanable funds on hand the banks are doing very little for the season. There is some call from the fisheries and for the wool trade, but from these directions there is not an average demand, while the business of breadstuffs exportation is so very light that its requirements are scarcely felt in the market. Rates are generally easy at the banks, and without some growth in the demand it is not likely that we may witness some reduction before the close of the spring months.

The low rate of premium on gold at New York thus far this year is an encouraging sign, especially when we consider the large demand for coin for shipment to England and Cuba. At no time this year has the premium been above 15 per cent, while for the most part it has been below 13 per cent. Last year during the same interval it ran as high as 17 per cent, and was seldom below 11 per cent. The extremes for each month this year have been as follows:

	Highest	Lowest
January	113¾	112½
February	114⅝	112½
March	115	113
April	112⅞	112¼

Thus far this month the range has been 112½ to 113. It is a noteworthy fact that notwithstanding the partial resumption of specie payment, by the substitution of silver coin for fractional currency, the country is farther removed from the gold standard, with the exception of last year, than it has been in five years. During the first four months of 1871 the premium on gold was 10½ to 12½ per cent. In currency, against a range of 8½ to 13¾ for the same time in 1872, 11¾ to 19⅝, for 1873, 10⅛ to 11¾ in 1874 and 11⅞ to 17 for 1875.

The consumption of foreign wheat and flour in the United Kingdom for three months ended March 31, 1876 is estimated at 1,227,573 qrs, or at the rate of 13,000,000 qrs. per annum. The stocks on hand at that date were 2,118,350 quarters, enough to supply the home demand for the next three months.

Messrs. R. C. Janion & Co., of this city are in receipt of a letter from their firm in Liverpool stating that the Benjamin Sewall had arrived safely with her cargo of wheat in good condition. She was to commence discharging on April 21st.

The salmon exports to San Francisco for April were 2,275 cs, 10 bbls and 8 hf bbls, against 16 hf-bbls only in April, 1875.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

The following is our special cablegram of wheat quotations, direct from Liverpool:

LIVERPOOL, May 18 1876.

OREGONIAN, Portland. To day's Liverpool wheat market closed with Oregon wheat ex warehouse, quotable at 10s 2d per cental. The market is advancing. HENRY JUMP & SONS.

The foregoing corresponds with the regular press dispatches, and shows an advance of 2d since last week's report. Proportionally the quotations for Oregon cargoes afloat would be 9s 6d@10s 1d.

Home Produce Market.

In wheat and flour very little is being done. The report is generally to the effect that quite a large amount of wheat over the requirements for home consumption is held in the interior of the State and at the rate it is now moving, this surplus will not be much reduced before harvest. Farmers are very busy seeding, and with the present favorable weather the acreage sown this spring will be very large, and we may yet have at least an average yield, though the long continuance of the rain will make our harvest late. Our telegram from Liverpool, seen elsewhere, gives a little encouragement to holders, but the advance is not generally believed to be permanent.

Aside from wheat and flour the market is generally tolerably active, and the volume of trade in domestic produce fair, with but few changes in quotations from those ruling one week ago.

A wool circular for May by a New York firm is before us, which says: "The tendency of values of all kinds is downwards, and as the woolen interest is perhaps more depressed than most manufacturing industries, it is possible that wool may experience a greater decline than many other commodities. The stoppage of woolen machinery has been plainly felt during the last five months, and could the demand for this period be taken as a fair criterion of the consumption of wool for the balance of the year, our domestic clip would prove to be quite in excess of our requirements. The same circular notes the fact that Oregon wools, which are quoted in New York at 26@32c ℔ is an average quality, and 32@35c for combing, had sold more freely during April but at quite a decline from the prices at which they had been previously held.

Miscellaneous.

There is no foundation for the report that under the Hawaiian treaty manufactures of wool are admitted into the United States free of duty. On the contrary, the same duties are levied on these articles coming from the Sandwich Islands as from all other countries. Under the provisions of the treaty, however, woolen products of American make are admitted into the islands without restriction.

From a statement issued by the commissioner of fisheries of the Dominion of Canada we learn that there was a large falling off in the canning of salmon in 1875 as compared with the previous year. The amount of this article canned in 1874 was 224,180 cans, while in 1875 there were only 124,000 cans, or less than half. This does not include the product of British Columbia, Manitoba, or the Northwest Territories.

There has been a large increase in the shipments of flour from New York this year, compared with the corresponding period of 1875. The New York Bulletin gives the following as the movement for the first fifteen weeks of the current year: Flour, 79,514 barrels; wheat, 1,046,718 bushels; corn, 206,619 bushels. In the shipments of cornmeal, rye, oats and peas, there is also a considerable excess over last year. It is also worthy of notice that exportations of dry goods continue to augment steadily, the total shipments this year being 23,857 packages, as against 8,930 during the corresponding period last year, 5,043 in 1874, and 3,805 in 1873.
